VILLAGES ARE BURNED AND ESTATES LOOTED

Russ Rebels Apply Torch In Many Provinces.

LANDLORDS FLEE TO TOWNS

All Peasants in Voronnezh District Have Arisen—Government Spirit Shops Throughout Poland Are Being Systematically Wrecked.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—The daily budget of revolutionary outrages and agrarian disorders was larger than usual Tuesday.

In many places the peasants are wantonly applying the torch to estates belonging to the crown and to private forests.

At Natshatkine, in Simbirsk province, the town hall was set on fire and the entire village, consisting of 300 houses, was consumed.

Throughout Poland systematic pillaging of the government spirit shops is in progress. The central police officers at Warsaw was robbed, and a gendarme was killed.

At Iublin, Russian Poland, revolutionists executed a workman who was suspected of being a spy, and at Nizni Novorod and Vasniky, the cashiers of the spirit monopoly were robbed and killed.

A bank of Sosnitza was robbed and at Tiflis an Armenian locomotive engineer was shot in his cab by an assassin concealed in the neigaboring work shop.

Bobruisk, Province of Voronezh, July 19.—The troubles in the whole of this district covering 135 miles square are becoming more serious daily, and over 20 estates were burned, and several landed proprietors killed. This town is filled with terror-stricken proprietors who were unable to escape Tuesday's carnage only by fleeing from their estates. Ten miles from here 15 estates were burned, and many of the proprietors killed.

The governor has arrived with Cossacks, but order has not been restored.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—Considarable alarm has been caused by the inauguration by a strike of police here. In two districts of capital the policemen refused to appear for duty, and a squad whose captain was lecturing them on declining to break up a meeting, threw down their arms and left the station. The strike is ostensibly based on economic reasons. The authorities, however, declare that the strike was inspired by agitators.

Received by Emperor Nicholas.

Peterhoff, July 19—A deputation of officers and men from the four Siberian corps and the First Manchurian corps, including the Twelfth Siberian regiment of which the baby Grand Duke Alexis is honorary colonel, were received here Wednesday by Emperor Nicholas and the heir to the throne, who is now about two years old. The emperor made a speech in which he returned thanks to the soldiers for the devotion and bravery promised in behalf of his son and said the latter would always wear around his neck the cross presented to him by the deputation.

Education Is Progressing.

Lahore, India, July 19.—The Amir of Afghanistan has issued a notable pronouncement on the subject of education in his domains. He says education is restrogressing, but that the fault does not rest with the teachers, but with the government officials who discourage education, dreading its levelling tendencies. The Amir warns the high-born officials that they must either change their attitude in this connection or be changed. Henceforth, he says, education will be the sole path to state service.

11 Cases of Smallpox.

Washington, July 19.—Eleven new cases of smallpox in Panama were reported to the war department Wednesday. The total number of cases is now 27. No Americans have the disease and so far there has been no death from the disease.

BILL TO PREVENT LOBBYING

Bill Passed the House by a Vote of 136 to 10.

Atlanta, July 19.—At the morning session of the house on Tuesday the bill of Mr. Wright, of Floyd, an anti-lobbying measure, was passed by a vote of 136 to 10.

The purposes of the bill are stated clearly in the title which declares that it is "an act to compel legislative counsel or agents to register with the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives, to file with said clerks written statements of their employment, to prevent such legislative counsel or agents from attempting personally to influence any members of the general assembly, and to provide penalties for a violation of the same."

Section 1 provides that all persons employed for a pecuniary consideration to act as legislative counsel or agents shall register their names together with statements of their business which registration shall be recorded in books to be kept by the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house, these books to be filed with the secretary of state when the legislature is not in session. This registration shall also include a statement as to what measure or measure such counsel desire to advocate or oppose. It is then made the duty of the secretary of the senate and clerk of the house to notify as to this registration the chairman of such committees as have charge of consideration of the measures in question.

Section 2 makes it unlawful for any such legislative counsel or agent to attempt to influence, personally or directly any member of the general assembly to vote for or against any measure in which such counsel or agent is interested, except by appearance before the committee to whom the matter has been referred, by newspaper publications, by public addresses or by filing printed briefs or arguments, copies of which must first be filed with the secretary of the senate and clerk of the house.

Section 3 provides that upon complaint of any member with regard to such attempts to influence, it shall be the duty of the attorney general to take steps to prosecute the offending party and any violation of this law shall be punished as a misdemeanor.

The house committee on appropriations held a meeting Tuesday afternoon and favorably recommended appropriations for the following educational and charitable institutions of the state:

Academy for Blind, Macon, $65,000.

Girls' Normal and Industrial college, Milledgeville, $27,500.

North Georgia Agricultural college, Dahlonega, $20,000.

Deaf and Dumb academy, Cave Springs, $20,000.

State Normal school, Athens, $15,000.

Georgia School of Technology, Atlanta, $27,500.

Walking Around the World.

San Francisco, July 19.—Nicholas George, a Greek and a pedestrian, 24 years old, has arrived here from Australia enroute to Budapest on a walk around the world. He must walk 30,000 miles in three years and three months, and at the end of that time get a purse of $20,000 from the International Tourist club of Budapest. He commenced his trip at Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 17, 1904. According to his story, he walks 30 miles a day, and that he has accomplished the different stages is vouched for in a diary by "all sorts and conditions of men." Among them were the Duke of Connought, the emperor of Abyssinia and General Khartoum.

Wellman Reaches Norway.

Digermulen, Lofoden Isles, Norway, July 19.—The steamer Frithjof, having on board the Wellman Chicago Record-Herald arctic expedition, has reached Danes Island, Spitzbergen, and found the shore of Virgo bay already dotted with structures including machine shops ready for work, and the Matin Roadius to begin the construction of the giant balloon house. The place has the appearance of a new western town. All the 24 members of the expedition are well. Mr. Wellman hopes to establish wireless communication with Hammerfest before the end of July.

LYNCHING CASE UP TO HIGHER COURT

Indictments Against Alleged Lynchers Quashed.

ON GROUND OF IMPROPER VENUE

This Will End the Present Trial and the State Will Appeal the Case to the Supreme Court—Case Should Have Speedy Trial.

Charlotte, N. C., July 19—It was announced at an early hour Wednesday morning on absolute authority that Judge Shaw on convening court would allow the motion of the defense in the case of the 21 men on trial at a special term of Union county court for the lynching of John V. Jackson, to quash the indictments sent up by Solicitor Robinson on the ground of improper venue.

This will end the present trial and the state will take an appeal to the supreme court.

Charlotte, N. C., July 19—Because of doubt as to the legality of the provisions of the anti-lynching statute under which the alleged murderers of the mob which took John V. Jackson from jail at Wadesboro and hanged him on May 25, the trial at Monroe, in the adjoining county of Union took a new turn Tuesday. In place of the former indictment, which charged the defendants with violating the 1893 statute, which provides punishment for entering a jail with intent to injure or kill a prisoner, or of conspiring to do so, Solicitor Robinson Tuesday afternoon sent to the grand jury a bill embodying three counts, viz: conspiring to break and enter a jail for the purpose of lynching a prisoner; breaking and entering and killing and lynching. Under this amended form the grand jury late in the afternoon of Tuesday returned true bills against 11 of the 21 men under charge of participating in the lynching.

The grand jury was still at work upon the cases of the remaining defendants. Among the true bills returned was one against Jim Swink, against whom "not a true bill" was rendered Tuesday.

The effect of Tuesday's proceedings is to drop those of Monday and start anew.

Several motions were made with regard to quashing the indictments, etc. It is contended by the defense that the 1893 statute, which provided for trial in another county than that in which the lynching occurred, has been amended by the new code of the state so as to annul the provision for removal, and that therefore the indictments should be quashed and the cases remanded to Anson county for trial. The indications were that those contentions would be upheld by the court and that the motion to quash would go to the supreme court on appeal by the state, but decision being deferred, the case took the new turn noted.

When the court convened Tuesday Judge Shaw announced that he desired to hear further from the state regarding the several motions of Monday afternoon, viz: to quash the indictment and to remove the cases to Anson county.

J. T. Bennett, for the prosecution, stated that unintentionally or inadvertently the main section of the act of 1903 had been omitted from the revised code, thus abrogating the statutes under which the indictments were found. He contended, however, that it would be a travesty upon justice to send these cases to Anson county, where the ends of justice manifestly would not be met.

R. L. Stevens, of Monroe, of counsel for the defense, stated with some heat that the defendants had no objection to facing a Union jury, but they did not care to incur the risk of being tried twice for the same offense.

Judge Shaw then expressed the opinion that while lynching was the most horrible and most cowardly of crimes, and he believed these cases should have speedy trial, he does not believe in prejudicial laws.

MARSHAL HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Marshal Trammell Barely Escapes Drowning Near Athens.

Athens, Ga., July 19.—United States Deputy Marshal Thomas P. Trammell, of this city, came near losing his life in the waters of Ellis creek in Oglethorpe county.

Marshal Trammell had to cross Ellis creek returning from a trip when the water was high on account of a recent heavy rain. He drove the horse into the stream, and when in the middle of the current the buggy got stuck in the sand, at the same time being borne to one side by the swift current. The buggy turned over and threw the horse on his back.

Marshal Trammell and the negro boy were thrown from the buggy into the creek, and the officer had a struggle to save the boy from drowning. The horse and buggy were swept on down stream, the animal being drowned and the buggy torn to pieces. A satchel full of government papers was lost in the creek.

Amount of Belt's Fortune.

London, July 19.—Those who are in a position to give authoritative statements regarding the amount of the fortune of the late Alfred Belt, the South American financier, and the terms of his will, have not yet given it to the newspapers. The pronouncements of the latter, therefore, are purely speculative. Estimates ranging from $125,000,000 to $625,000,000 have been published, but it will probably be found when the terms of the will are given out that Mr. Belt's fortune was somewhat below $50,000,000. About one-third of this amount, it is expected, will be bequeathed to national purposes in Great Britain and South Africa, mainly of educational character, as was a great part of the fortune of his most intimate friend, the late Cecil Rhodes.

May Move to Statesville.

Washington, July 19.—A delegation consisting of the mayor and other representative citizens of Statesville, N. C., were accorded a hearing by Secretary Shaw and Assistant Secretary Edwards of the treasury, on the question of the removal of the office of the collector of internal revenue from Asheville, N. C., to Statesville. The newly appointed collector, Mr. Brown, is a resident of Statesville, and he has recommended the removal. The department will send an agent to North Carolina to make an investigation and a decision will likely be reached soon after the return to this country of Commissioner Yerkes, who is now in Europe, and who is expected back in about six weeks.

Try to Find Stolen Gems.

New York, July 19.—A morning dispatch says that gems of the size and value that make their description read like the list of loot from a royal treasure house, have been stolen and the detectives of police headquarters are raking the city high and low, seeking to find trace of them. It has been many years since the police have had on hand a search for scores of diamonds, most of them as large as a pigeon's egg and so numerous that an estimate of value at $50,000 is treated with scorn as wholly inadequate. While the police are prosecuting the search, they refuse to give out any information whatever about the case.

Killed While Asleep on Track.

Dawson, Ga., July 19.—Walter Bishop, a man born and raised here, was run over and killed by a passenger train on the Central railroad, a short distance above the junction of the Seaboard Air Line and Central roads. The body was crushed almost beyond recognition. He is said to have been drinking and was probably asleep on the track. The inquest was held and no blame was attached to the railroad employees as the body was discovered too late to prevent the accident.

Will Sell Their Wool Clip.

Donaldsonville, Ga., July 19.—The wool growers of this section will sell their clip at Donaldsonville, on the morning of July 25, at 10 o'clock, to the highest bidder for cash as it sets from home. The clip this year is about the same as last year in way of yield, being about 50,000 pounds. But the quality is better than previous years.

ARMISTICE FOR OPPOSING REPUBLICS

Went Into Effect Wednesday Morning.

COMMISSINERS ARE SELECTED

They Will Go to San Jose, Guatemala, in Time to Board the Marblehead, Which Will Reach There Thursday Some Time.

Washington, July 19.—The armistice between the warring Central American republic went into effect at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mr. Munoz, the Guatemalan minister, called at the state department and announced that he has been advised by his government of the selection of three commissioners and a secretary to represent Guatemala at the peace conference.

This committee will go to San Jose in Guatemala, in time to board the United States war vessel, the Marblehead, which is expected to reach that port Thursday.

Two Die In Dallas Wreck.

Dallas, Tex., July 19.—Two men were instantly killed and a third is believed to have been fatally injured as a result of a wreck in the Houston and Texas Central railway yards in this city Tuesday night. The switch engine was backing up with a load of 15 cars. The engine left the rails at a crossing. Joe Waits, engineer, was pinioned beneath the cab and instantly killed. T. E. Reitzell, fireman of the crew was crushed to death beneath the truck of the forward car. John Tenison, fireman, was crushed by the woodwork of a freight car, and it is believed he is fatally injured. All of the men reside in Dallas.

Identity of Body Established.

New Orleans, July 19.—The identity of a young man who died in the Charity hospital here under sad circumstances on July 11, was on Wednesday identified as Clifford F. Clopton, son of former Chief Justice Clopton, of the Alabama supreme court. The young man appeared at the hospital July 9 near death from tuberculosis. Since his death his body has been held waiting a claimant. Clifford Lanair, Jr., of Montgomrey, Ala., made the identification and arranged to take the body to Montgomery.

Old River Man Dead.

Cincinnati, July 19.—A special from Wheeling, W. Va., says that Banjamin F. Goodwin, perhaps the oldest river man in this section of the valley died here at the age of 81 years Tuesday evening. He was a brother of the famous inventor of mechanical toys, William Goodwin, who now resides in New Jersey. The Frolic, one of Captain Goodwin's first boats, was confiscated by the Southerners on the Red river when the war broke out, a loss to him of over $35,000.

Political Barometer Falling.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—The political barometer is again falling. The confusion which seems to have taken possession of the upper spheres since the effort to form a coalition ministry failed, connected with the alarming reports in the interior and the attitude in the parliament, makes anything possible. There has been a marked renewal of apprehension that the crisis may end in a complete rupture with parliament.

Directory Publisher Dead.

Cincinnati, July 19.—Benjamin T. Redman, said to have been the first directory publisher in the United States, died at the Widows and Old Men's Home in Walnut Hills, aged 91. "The Old Colonial Directory," a combined directory of Philadelphia and New York, reputed to be the first one in America, was reputed to be issued by Redman.

Congratulates Dreyfus.

Brussels, July 19.—The united Liberal left in the chamber of deputies has united in a telegram to Hugo Dreyfus, volunteering him on the triumph of truth over lies.

The Frolic, one of Captain Goodwin's first boats, was confiscated by the Southerners on the Red river when the war broke out, a loss to him of over $35,000.

Political Barometer Falling.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—The political barometer is again falling. The confusion which seems to have taken possession of the upper spheres since the effort to form a coalition ministry failed, connected with the alarming reports in the interior and the attitude in the parliament, makes anything possible. There has been a marked renewal of apprehension that the crisis may end in a coup detat against the parliament.

Directory Publisher Dead.

Cincinnati, July 19.—Benjamin T. Redman, said to have been the first directory publisher in the United States, died at the Widows and Old Men's home in Walnut Hills, aged 91. "The Old Colonial Directory," a combined directory of Philadelphia and New York, reputed to be the first one in America, was reputed to be issued by Redman.

ALL INJUNCTIONS NOW DISSOLVED

No Legal Impediments Now in Way of University.

INJUNCTION CASES OVERRULED

By Judge Malone at Tallahassee Thursday—Good News Not Only to People of Gainesville, But Entire State of Florida.

Tallahasse, Fla., July 19.

H. H. McCreary, Gainesville, Fla:

Judge Malone Has Dissolved all University Injunctions. The cases were heard today.

GERTIE DZIALYNSKI.

The above, received from Tallahassee at a late hour Thursday afternoon, is a short story, but it is sweetened just to the taste of Gainesville people and friends of the city in the University matter, which includes about eighty per cent of the people of Florida.

The Sun, as well as all readers of this paper, appreciate Miss Dzialynski's thoughtfulness in sending the information so promptly.

TAYLOR MORGAN BETTER.

Negro Whom Sheriff Was Compelled to Shoot Is Resting Easily.

Taylor Morgan, the negro who attempted to pass a forged check amounting to $158 with the name of S. F. Wait attached thereto at the First National Bank, who was arrested, and who overpowered the officer and took his pistol and whom it became necessary afterwards for Sheriff Fennell, in pursuit, to shoot three times before he would surrender, is reported to be resting as easily as a fellow could who had been punctured with lead.

Naturally Morgan's wounds are giving him a great deal of pain, but they are not considered necessarily dangerous.

This scrap should be, and probably will be a lesson to Morgan. When he shall have served out the sentence in the State prison which will necessarilly be passed, it may make a man of him.

It was a miracle that Morgan did not fire upon Officer Bruton when he secured possession of that officer's pistol; but he was too busily engaged in an endeavor to escape to stop long enough to shoot anyone.

THE PROSPECTS ARE GOOD.

Planters of Morriston and Vicinity Will Have Good Cotton Yield.

Among the prominent business men visiting Gainesville yesterday was J. W. Fant, a merchant and cotton buyer of Morriston.

Mr. Fant brings encouraging reports from his section, notwithstanding the heavy and continued rains of the past few weeks, which have had a tendency to damage the cotton crop heavily, in some instances almost demolishing the prospects. He states that the prospects for a good yield the coming season are fine, that the acreage is about the same as usual, and that the plant is looking fine. Planters are anticipating a successful cotton crop.

Not only cotton, but corn and other staple productions of the farm are doing well, and as a rule the farmers of Morriston are happy and prosperous.

Pendrel Goes North.

A card received by a friend in this city from John Pendrel, the clever traveling passenger agent of the Clyde Line who spends his winters in Florida, bears information that he was at that time in Cincinnati, and expected to leave the same evening for Pittsburg.

After a brief vacation among friends in Pennsylvania, Mr. Pendrel will proceed to New York, where he will resume his duties in the East. He is a prominent Elk, and thought one time of visiting the Grand Lodge meeting at Denver, but time was so limited that he was unable to do so.

Government Will Educate Students.

Washington, July 19.—The bureau of insular affairs has been advised by the Philippine commission of an act passed to educate students who will serve the government as surveyors and thus meet the great demand for civil engineers caused by the extensive transfer of friar lands and other lands for mining and agricultural purposes. It is provided by the act that each year a large number of students is to be certified to the bureau of lands for five years in instruction and surveying.

WILD WITH ITCHING HUMOR

Eruption Broke Out in Spots All Over Body—Caused a Continual Itching for Two Years—Doctor's Medicine Did no Good—Cured at Expense of only $1.25 and Now

THANKS CUTICURA FOR COMPLETE CURE

"Some time ago I wrote you for a book on the Cuticura Remedies and received it O. K. and went and bought the Soap, Ointment, and Pills. They did me more good than any medicine I ever used. They cured me of my skin disease, and I am very thankful to you. My trouble was eruption of the skin, which broke out in spots all over my body, and caused a continual itching which nearly drove me wild at times. I got medicine of a doctor, but it did not cure me, and when I saw in a paper your ad., I sent to you for the Cuticura book and I studied my case in it. I then went to the drug store and bought one cake of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment, and one vial of Cuticura Pills. From the first application I received relief. I used the first set and two extra cakes of Cuticura Soap, and was completely cured. I had suffered for two years, and I again thank Cuticura for my cure. If you wish, you may publish this. Your friend forever, Claude N. Johnson, Maple Grove Farm, R. F. D. 2, Walnut, Kan., June 15, 1905."

A Secret

It aids nature a little, that's the only secret about it. We refer to Ayer's Hair Vigor. It feeds the hair, makes the scalp healthy. The hair stops falling out and all dandruff disappears. The result could not be different, for it's the natural way. And it is a splendid dressing, keeping the hair soft and smooth. Why not save what hair you have and get more at the same time? J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

S.S.S. FOR THE BLOOD

The purifying action and curative properties of this great remedy have made "S. S. S. For The Blood" a household saying, and thousands who are today enjoying perfect health owe their recovery from blood or skin diseases to this universally used blood medicine. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks which possess not only cleansing and healing ingredients, but building-up and strengthening properties to keep the blood in perfect order. No one can be well when the blood is impure; they lack the energy and strength that is natural with health, the complexion becomes pale and sallow, the vitality is weakened and they suffer from a general broken down condition. When the waste or refuse matter, which nature intends shall be thrown off, is left in the system because of a sluggish, torpid condition of the expelling members, it is absorbed into the blood, making this vital stream weak, sour and acrid and its condition is manifested by boils, pimples, rashes, blotches and other eruptions of the skin. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes every particle of blood taint or poison of every character, makes the blood fresh and strong and gives energy to the entire body. When the blood has been cleansed by S. S. S. all skin diseases and eruptions pass away and the smooth, clear skin, glowing with health, shows that the body is being nourished by rich, pure blood. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders, and for their cure nothing equals S. S. S. It does not injuriously affect the most delicate parts of the body and can be taken with perfect safety by old or young. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired without charge.

WILL PLAY ST. AUGUSTINE.

Oak Halls and Team From Ancient City Will Play Two Games Here.

The fact that the Oak Halls were defeated two straight games by the Madison twirlers last week has no tendency to discourage them, with the result that our people will have an opportunity on Monday and Tuesday afternoons of the coming week of witnessing two of the most interesting games of the season.

While the Oak Halls have been in good condition during the entire season, winning nearly every game they have played, they are now in better practice than ever, and those who attend these games may expect some fast ball playing.

Information comes through a reliable source that the St. Augustine boys are by no means slow when it comes to the national game, which is a double assurance that there will be "something doing" on the Gainesville diamond when the two teams get together.

The Oak Halls are expecting a return engagement with the Madison team in a few days, and it may be said that they will endeavor to be in better condition than when they tackled the West Florida Giants in their own town. The return games will be pulled off here.

The season is yet young, and our people may expect to see some exciting games ere it closes.

MR. NICHOLS PROMOTED.

Will Assume Agency of Atlantic Coast Line at Lake Butler.

C. A. Nichols, for the past eight years connected with the train dispatcher's office of the Atlantic Coast Line in this city, has received a deserved promotion, having been appointed agent of that line at Lake Butler.

Mr. Nichols is regarded as one of the most competent railroad men in Florida, and has served the road by which he has been employed both efficiently and faithfully. Always at his post and reliable, his superiors realized his loyalty and rewarded him by this promotion.

While Mr. Nichols and his estimable family will be given up reluctantly by their many friends here, it is no more than natural that they will join in congratulations.

Mr. Nichols expects to assume his new duties in a day or two.

BOARD OF TRADE AFTER LOW RATES

Will Ask Railroads to Place City on Tourist Basis.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Many Were Present, and Several Matters of Interest to the City Were Discussed, Principal Among Which Was the Railroad Rate Question.

Pursuant to call of President W. G. Robinson, an enthusiastic and well attended meeting of the Gainesville Board of Trade was held in the city hall Thursday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the matter of exercising the influence of the board in having the railroad and other transportation lines give Gainesville the advantage of a winter tourist rate, as enjoyed by other cities of the State.

The question was discussed thoroughly by several members, at the conclusion of which a committee was appointed, headed by B. F. Hampton, secretary of the board, with instructions to confer with the various railroads with a view to securing these rates.

After the transaction of some other business of minor importance, the board adjourned subject to the call of the president.

The securing of the rate desired would mean a great deal for Gainesville, as it would attract a great many more people here during the tourist season, especially since the University of Florida, the Florida Winter Bible Conference, the Christian Workers' Institute and the Gainesville Winter Chautauqua are located here.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.

Work is Progressing Nicely—Examination Will Conclude Today.

The examination of teachers for State and other certificates which began Tuesday morning, is progressing nicely under direction of State Superintendent Holloway in the higher branches, and Mrs. Ella LaFontisee Hamilton in the primary department.

The examination will conclude today. The attendance has been very fair, but it is the opinion of the educators that more teachers could be used in Florida for the coming year. Several county superintendents, realizing the prospects of a shortage of teachers, have taken advantage of an opportunity to come here and employ teachers in advance.

Mrs. Holder Injured.

Mrs. C. E. Holder of Hague was the victim of a painful accident a day or two recently. While the lady was riding horseback the animal suddenly "shied," throwing her violently to the ground. Her shoulder was injured, and she sustained other bruises.

Friends are glad that the result was not more serious, and trust that Mrs. Holder may soon completely recover.

A man who introduced an anti-kissing bill in the Virginia Legislature last winter has been deserted by his wife. Serves him right.

The girl who follows the President's advice and keeps her eyes on the stars will be likely to stumble, unless she has a firm hold on some young man's arm.

A sycamore millionaire has married the manicurist who polished his finger nails. Will she now permit some other manicurist to hold his hand or insist on doing the polishing herself?

William J. Bryan is neither rich nor poor financially. His property holdings in the suburbs of Lincoln, Neb., are valued at $50,000 and his downtown property at $22,000. The value of his bank stock and personal property is not given.

That Pennsylvania preacher still insists that George Washington went to the ball game every Sunday, or something of that sort. How long does a man have to be dead before he can be called a great man without the fear of successful contradiction.

As the administration never discovered the filthy condition of the beef trust establishments, although the taxpayers were paying for nearly a thousand inspectors, what guaranty have we that with more money and more men the agricultural department will get busy and keep the packing houses in wholesome condition?

If we assume that a family consists on the average of five persons, it will cost every family in the United States $55.10 to pay the debts contracted by the last session of Congress. Congress appropriated a sum equal to $11.02 per capita on the 80,000,000 people in this country. It was not a property tax, but an indirect, insidious, dishonest tariff and internal revenue tax, equivalent in its operation and effect to a poll of about $33 on every adult in the country.

THE PASSING OF THE NEGRO SLAVE.

With the passing of the negro slave the grand old South is losing a most interesting character of humanity. His relation to the South has been remarkably important in many respects, and the beautiful tributes that can be paid him by the Southern people as his characteristic life closes never again to be reproduced, will partially serve in preserving his peculiarities in memory. Unlike many other characters of citizenship his life will not live on in posterity. His was a brief existence, wholly distinct from those who lived before him or shall hereafter exist.

Many quaint and queer old tales will be read by our children and grandchildren, the data of which will be gathered from the interesting life of the negro slave, their loyalty to their masters and masters' children. That they were, as a general thing, the happiest human pictures the world has ever known, is beyond a shadow of question. The tales they now tell us who are too young to remember the actual scenes, are simply charming; of the 'possums they have pulled from the frosty 'simmon limbs; of the coons they have chased from the new ground corn; of the gay weddings they have witnessed and the elegant suppers they have prepared. Pride! Jealousy! Hatred! Begone! And God bless the old slaves.—Crystal River News.

SUMMER RESORTS CONDEMNED

Rev. Madison C. Peters of the Church of the Epiphany in New York, declares that the so-called summer resorts are the worst places in the world, veritable hotbeds of sin and sinks of iniquity. He says:

"I dare not trust myself to describe the things which may be seen in our summer hotels where wealth abounds and beauty smiles. The harvest which will be gathered from summer drinking will be ruined homes, broken hearts, destroyed hopes, dishonored lives, tormented souls, cheerless graves and an undone eternity. If I could make you see the harvest which will come from the summer sowing it would make your hair raise, your breath catch, your blood chill and would call forth your deepest commiseration on behalf of the victims and rouse your just indignation against the social custom which produces such misery."

"We are a restless people," says the editor of a Kansas exchange. "Every thin woman longs to be fat. Every fat woman wants to grow thin. Every town man longs for the time when he can retire in the quiet of the country, and every farmer hopes to some day quit work and move to town, when he can take life easy. Country newspaper men would like to try their hand on a city daily. The fellows on the big dailies dream of a time when they can own a paper of their own. In youth we long for maturity, in age we yearn for the happy days of childhood. There is no excuse for it other than that we seem to be built that way. The grass seems to be just a little bit greener and thriftier most any direction from the place you occupy right now. Contentment is as near to happiness as you can get in this world."

House cleaning is a painful operation, but it pays in the end to do it. Uncle Sam's folks are at that job now. First they freshened up the insurance business, then they scoured the railroads, and now the big butcher shops are being overhauled and scrubbed. The whole house will be sweeter, cleaner and healthier when the job is finished. Things had got pretty dirty.

The two New York balloonatics, who spent the night in an airship, didn't lean up against the counter and sing "We won't go home until morning."

Bishop McQuaidy of Rochester, N. Y., a Catholic prelate, says the "time will come when women will vote, and then we will see the greatest voting the world ever saw. We are not afraid of woman suffrage. Our women will save the day to us." If intelligence should be the basis of suffrage then women are more entitled to the right of voting than men, for more women are graduating from schools and colleges than men.

The value of the water products taken and sold by United States fishermen in 1905 was approximately $56,250,000, and this sum is exclusive of the considerable fisheries of insular possessions and the immense quantities of fish taken for home consumption and by sportsmen. The number of persons who make a livelihood in this industry is about 233,000 and the capital invested exceeds $82,000,000.

Judge Brewer is rather previous in giving Secretary Taft credit "for guiding the country safely through the intricacies of the Philippine situation." The Philippine tariff bill and other proposed laws for the islands are still in the pigeon-holes of the Senate and House committees in spite of all the efforts of Taft and the President. Perhaps Judge Brewer is a standpatter and believes in letting things drift.

An Amherst professor says the men of the future will be a race of weaklings if present educational methods are not changed. He insists that there must be more manual labor and less book work. If he can persuade anybody to work with his hands, simply for the purpose of giving some future man a strong constitution, he will be entitled to all the medals available and a bas-relief, at least.

BLAZING METEORS.

The Short Lived Splendor of a Shooting Star.

A small body as large as a paving stone or not as large as a marble is moving round the sun. Just as a mighty planet revolves in an ellipse, so this small object will move round and round in an ellipse, with the sun in the focus. There are at the present moment inconceivable myriads of such meteors moving in this manner. They are too small and too distant for our telescopes, and we can never see them except under extraordinary circumstances.

At the time we see the meteor it traverses a distance of more than twenty miles a second. Such a velocity is almost impossible near the earth's surface. The resistance of the air would prevent it. Aloft in the emptiness of space there is no air to resist it.

In the course of its wanderings the body may come near the earth and within a few hundred miles of its surface, of course, begins to encounter the upper surface of the atmosphere with which the earth is inclosed. To a body moving with the appalling velocity of a meteor, a plunge into the atmosphere is usually fatal. Even though the upper layers of air are excessively attenuated, yet they suddenly check the velocity, almost as a rifle bullet would be checked when fired into water. As a meteor rushes through the atmosphere the friction of the air warms its surface; gradually it becomes red hot, then white hot and is finally driven off into the vapor with a brilliant light, while we on the earth, one or two hundred miles below, exclaim:

"Oh, look! There is a shooting star."

A FISH HOOK.

The One You Should Buy and the Test You Should Try.

The most common flaw is the temper of the hook. Some hooks are brittle and break easily. There are other hooks still that bend, and bend so easily that they "straighten" on every big fish, and yet other hooks that bend, but bend so hard that a big fish never flexes them, and they only straighten and come away when the full tension of the line is laid upon them if caught on a tough snag or tree bough. These last are the hooks to buy—if you can find them—and the hard breaking hooks classifies next in merit. Tests by the eye are quite useless, as so many hooks carry exactly the same tints in blue or black. Test the hook instead by the hand, catching the point in a firm bit of wood and trying it out both by the hard, firm pull and by the jerk. Watch particularly in this trial for weakness at the foot of the barb, where the wire is apt to be attenuated overmuch and the whole point give way on a strong fish, especially if hooked in bone or very hard gristle. What vasty depths of angling profanity, in spirit if not in word, have been stirred in boat and on bank when the pointless hook comes away from the hard played fish must be left to memory.—Outing Magazine.

Telling Time by Flowers.

"With a little time and labor it would be possible to construct a garden whose flowers would combine to make a first rate clock," said the botanist. "It is 5 a. m. when the sow thistle opens," he continued. "It is 5:30 when the dandelion opens. It is 7 when the white lily opens. It is 8 when the hawkweed opens. At 11:12 a. m. the sow thistle closes. At noon precisely the yellow goat's beard closes. At 2 p. m. the hawkweed closes. At 5 the white lily closes. The dandelion closes at 8 sharp. Since Pliny's time forty-six flowers have been known to open and shut with great punctuality at certain hours of the day and night."

Bills of Different Birds.

The bill of the canary is built for crushing seeds—has strength, but in many of the doves the bill is slender and weak. Many of the pigeons and doves that feed on seeds have gizzards that are large and muscular—crushing and grinding being accomplished in that way.

It is difficult to say how much birds experience taste, probably in a small degree. Ducks and parrots have soft, fleshy tongues, but in most birds much of the tongue is sheathed in horn. Food may be selected by intuition as to what is wholesome, more than by taste.—St. Nicholas.

Purity of Milk.

In Paris the municipal chemists accept milk as pure when it contains one ounce of butter and four ounces of solids per quart. At Bern milk must contain at least 3 per cent of butter and may contain 90 per cent of water. At Berlin the police seize all milk offered for sale which is below the legally required standard of 2.7 per cent of fatty matters. This allows the dairymen to add with safety from 10 to 13 per cent of water to fairly rich milk.

Satire.

"Of course, I don't want to criticise, but I don't think it was altogether right for David to say 'all men are liars.'"

"Well, at any rate, it was safer than

MAKING PORCELAIN.

The Most Exciting and Romantic Trade In the World.

The maker of porcelain and pottery has decidedly the most exciting and romantic trade in the world.

The great factories of Sevres and Dresden were founded by Bernard Palissy. This man invented white enamel, but it took him sixteen years to make the invention—sixteen years of hunger, misery and persecution, which culminated in the episode, used in H. A. Jones' play of "The Middleman," wherein Palissy maintained his furnace fire by burning all the furniture in his house and finally opened the furnace door to find within the glaze which he had sought throughout the best years of his life.

Bottgher invented hard porcelain. He was an alchemist, and one day, chancing to discover that his powdered wig was unusually heavy, he inquired the cause and found that the weight was due to the kaolin with which the wig was powdered. This kaolin was the substance for lack of which Bottgher's investigations had for years failed.

When Elers opened a porcelain factory at Burslem he employed none but the most stupid and illiterate workmen, so that his secret processes might not become known. But Samuel Astbury resolved to learn the Elers method, and, affecting ignorance and stupidity, he got a place in the factory, mastered all of Elers' secrets and eventually opened a plant of his own, wherein he duplicated in every detail the work of Elers.—Exchange.

MANY, MANY DOCTORS.

A Sixteenth Century Wager That Might Be Won Today.

The story is told in Joubert's "Popular Errors Concerning Medicine," published at Bordeaux, France, in 1579, that one Gonelle, a jester at the court of the Duke of Ferrara, insisted once upon a time that the trade which had the most followers was that of doctor. To prove his assertion he left his home one morning to go to the palace with his nightcap on and his jaws wrapped up. The first person he met stopped him with the question, "What is the matter with you, Gonelle?" "A terrible toothache." "Oh, is that all? I'll tell you what will cure it." And every person he met had some advice to give him.

When the jester reached the duke's chamber, the same question and answer were repeated. "Ah," said the prince, "I know of something that will take the pain right away." Gonelle instantly threw up his kerchief, saying: "And you, too, monseigneur, are a doctor? I have only passed through one street in coming from my house to you and have counted more than 200 of them. I believe I could find 10,000 in the city." Whether the story is true or false, it could be told again in our days, and Gonelle would win his wager without dispute.

The Stars Were Once Human Eyes.

The most remarkable belief or superstition concerning the human eye is one that is current in Australia. Among the natives of that country it is the general belief that the left eye of every chief becomes a star the moment the chief in question is done with it. The sun, they say, is the eye of the "greater god" and the moon the eye of the "lesser god." All the stars were once the left optics of human beings of high rank. Shungle, a celebrated chief, once ate the eye of a valiant chief, thinking thereby to increase the brilliancy of his own "eye star." But the eye burned through Shungle's belly and killed him, whereupon his own left eye became joined to the one he had eaten, and the two may now be seen as a beautiful double star lying just to the east of the Southern Cross.

Liquid Corn.

An easterner was prospecting in the north Georgia mountains when he came on a native apparently clinging to the side of a steep hill tilling corn.

The prospector stopped for a chat, and the mountaineer, nothing loath for a rest in the shade from his fatiguing toil, was agreeable.

"Say, friend, how in the world do you get the corn down off that hillside after it is ready for harvest?" asked the stranger.

"In jugs," was the laconic and probably truthful reply.—Atlanta Georgian.

Seals Learning to Swim.

Young seals do not know how to swim. They have to become gradually accustomed to the water either by entering it to paddle about by themselves or by being carried into it in their mothers' jaws. They have great fear of the waves that break into foam, and as soon as they see one approaching take to flight in terror and do not turn round until they have ascended to a very high place above the sea.

It Happens.

"You are a very successful prophet," we said. "Will you tell us the secret of your success?"

"Certainly," the sage replied in a kindly tone. "As it is always the unexpected that happens, I merely prophesy the unexpected."—American Boniface.

MAKING MAPLE SUGAR.

The Modern Way and the Crude Methods of Early Days.

The sugar season opens a busy industry in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. Buckets are loaded on to the ox sleds, boxes of spiles and axes, and away to the sugar orchard!

Sugar making nowadays is a science. Only in the extreme rural sections still remain the wooden buckets and cedar spiles, but there is still a sugar warmth, a bursting of healthy joy that breaks forth just as the swelling buds on the maples.

No longer are there the crude methods of an open fire, of the kettles strung on green forked poles. Possibly sugar making has lost some of its genuine savor in the modern evaporators, but the product—and its commercial feature is of all importance—is finer grained, of purer color, freer from bits of bark and other foreign refuse.

Important changes in the sugar industry have lessened the work of the farmer. In the early days wooden buckets and handmade cedar spiles were used. That made bother in the orchard, for the bucket had to be placed on the ground, and the spile could not be far above it else the wind would blow the sap to one side and thus waste it.

As the snow melted the spiles had to be drawn, new holes nearer the ground made and the bucket replaced.

Nowadays the spiles are of metal and the pails are hung on them. The evaporator is a sample of the rapid strides in sugar making facilities. The modern orchard has tin or galvanized pails and metal spiles.

Occasionally a tree runs a bucket full every fair day during the season, an average of ten quarts, although the general run is about half that amount, unless the weather holds so the trees run during the night.

Good, honest sirup weighs eleven pounds to the gallon, and it takes a barrel of thirty-two gallons of sap to make a gallon of sirup.

THE FIRST BALLOON.

Result of the Experiments of the Montgolfier Brothers.

Proceeding on the principle that heated air expands and so becomes lighter, bulk for bulk, than air at the ordinary temperature, the brothers Stephen and Joseph Montgolfier filled a paper bag with heated air, which rose to the ceiling of the room. This preliminary success was rapidly followed up, and they gradually increased the size of the balloons experimented with until they were so satisfied with their progress that in 1783 they gave a public exhibition, sending up a linen balloon 105 feet in circumference, which was inflated over a fire supplied with small bundles of chopped straw. The balloon succeeded beyond their utmost expectation, and after rising to a height of over 6,000 feet it descended ten minutes after in a field a mile and a half away. The next balloon carried a car, in which were a sheep, a cock and a duck.

The success of this further experiment induced M. Pilatre de Rozier and the Marquis d'Arlandes to risk their lives by making the first ascent in the new and wonderful machine. Their balloon, which was forty-five feet in diameter and seventy-five feet high and was inflated with hot air, passed over Paris to the great astonishment of the people, attaining an altitude of half a mile. Ballast was then for the first time employed in regulating the ascending power of the balloon. The first venture was followed by others, and De Rozier, the first to ascend, was also the first to meet his death in this manner, having been killed, with a companion, by the burning of his balloon near Boulogne.

BACKBONE.

The Self Reliant Man Is the One Who Is In Demand.

Haven't you depended upon clothes, upon appearances, upon introductions, upon recommendations about long enough? Haven't you leaned about long enough on other things? Isn't it about time for you to call a halt, to tear off all masks, to discard everything you have been leaning on outside of yourself, and depend upon your own worth?

Haven't you been in doubt about yourself long enough? Haven't you had enough unfortunate experiences depending upon superficial, artificial, outside things to drive you home to the real power in yourself? Aren't you tired of leaning and borrowing and depending upon this thing and that thing which have failed you?

The man who learns to seek power within himself, who learns to rely upon himself, is never disappointed, but he always will be disappointed when he depends upon any outside help. There is one person in the world that will never fail you if you depend upon him and are honest with him, and that is yourself. It is the self reliant man that is in demand everywhere.—O. S. Marden in Success Magazine.

Should any person who has paid the taxes for 1905, find any of the property for which they hold receipts advertised on the foregoing list, if they will send me the numer and date of such receipt, I will investigate receipt and if correct will have same struck from list, so as to prevent sale of same, and no expense will be incurred by them for such advertisement.

We have been as careful as possible in preparing the list, but as it covers eight months collections there may possibly be some items advertised on which the taxes have been paid, I will cheerfully correct any such error at my own expense, if I am informed of such mistake.

BURIALS IN CUBA.

Customs That Remind One of the Parsees of Bombay.

Burial customs in Cuba are almost as strange as the Parsee customs and their towers of silence in Bombay. It seems that the reopening of graves in Cuba is the result of a long established custom of burying as many bodies as possible in a single grave. The cemetery routine is like this:

First some one, usually the head of a family, buys a plot. He at once sets to work digging his own grave and graves for all the members of his family. He digs several graves six feet long for adults and one grave four feet long to provide for the possible death of a child. When the entire area of the plot is thus in open graves the digger turns mason and plasterer. He cements each grave, bottom and sides. Then he fills in the cemented graves with soil and goes home with the satisfactory thought that he may look upon his own grave during his lifetime and that it is ready for him at any time he is ready for it.

But the weirdest part of this custom is yet to be told. In the middle of the plot a square grave is dug, a hole about six feet each way. This square hole is cemented like the graves and filled in with soil. It should be explained here that the bodies in the graves are covered with quicklime. When the flesh has disappeared and only the bones are left the bones are taken out of the grave and thrown into the square hole in the center of the plot. Thus the graves are used over and over again until the square hole in the center is filled with the bones of the members of this or that family. Then the hole is sealed over, and that particular family plot is abandoned and a new one purchased.—London Tit-Bits.

BE A BUSINESS MAN.

Do Not Ignore the Money Side of Your Vocation.

No matter what your vocation may be, you must be a business man first or you will always be placed at a great disadvantage in the practical affairs of life. We cannot entirely ignore the money side of existence any more than we can the food side, and the very foundation of a practical, successful life is the ability to know how to manage the money side effectively.

It is infinitely harder to save money and to invest it wisely than to make it, and if even the most practical men, men who have had a long training in scientific business methods, find it a difficult thing to hold on to money after they make it, what is likely to happen to people who have had practically no training in business methods?

If every child in America had a thorough business training tens of thousands of promoters, long headed, cunning schemers, who have thrived on the people's ignorance, would be out of an occupation.

I believe that the business colleges are among the greatest blessings in American civilization today, because they have saved thousands of homes from being wrecked and have made happy and comfortable tens of thousands of people who might otherwise be living in poverty and wretchedness. —Success Magazine.

Trapped.

The Man (who had been sitting stolidly with his eyes on his paper)—Take my seat, madam.

The Lady—Then you are about to leave the car?

The Man—Oh, no, madam.

But he was, just the same, and it took him fifteen minutes to walk back from where he finally alighted.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

It Sometimes Seems So.

Tommy—Paw, what does the paper mean by practical Christianity? Paw—Practical Christianity is the kind that does not interfere with a man's business.

A Husband's Retort.

A man, accompanied by his wife, visited a merchant tailor to order a suit of clothes. The couple differed as to the material and the manner of making, and the wife lost her temper.

"Oh, well," she said, turning away, "please yourself. I suppose you are the one who will wear the clothes."

"Well," observed the husband meekly, "I didn't suppose you'd want to wear the coat and waistcoat."—Everybody's Magazine.

Mistaken Idea.

"It may be laid down as a broad proposition," said the professor of political economy, "that you cannot get something for nothing."

"I once got the measles for nothing, professor," interrupted the young man with the wicked eye.—Chicago Tribune.

An Editor's Reply.

"Why didn't you retaliate when that fellow struck you?"

"I didn't know him, and it is our rule not to pay any attention to anonymous contributions."—Bohemian.

FORMER GEORGIAN IS INJURED.

Cavalry Captain Thrown for Horse and Fally Hurt.

Boise, Idaho, July 19.—Captain William Yates, troop A, Fourteenth cavalry, ranking captain at Boise barracks, was fatally hurt Tuesday by being thrown from his horse on the drilling grounds while engaged in drilling a bunch of raw recruits.

During the drill he saw the horse of one of the recruits had bolted and spurred his own steed into its path. When the two animals came together, the captain was thrown to the ground and was carried unconscious to the hospital.

There the post surgeon pronounced his injury to be a fracture of the skull with practically no hope of his recovery. Captains Yates graduated from West Point with the class of 1893, having been appointed from Georgia. He has been a captain since 1901. He won honors as a sharpshooter. He is 35 years old.

Captain Yates succumbed to his injuries early Wednesday morning.

Editors in Charleston.

Charleston, S. C., July 19.—The thirty-second annual meeting of the South Carolina State Press association, was called to order at the Hotel Seashore, Isle of Palms, by President E. H. Aull, of the Newberry News and Observer. Addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Rhett, President Gadsden, of the Consolidated, and Editor Waring, of the Evening Post. The attendance is excellent, and the sessions will prove interesting. The reading of papers and reports occupied the greater part of the day. Wednesday the party left for a trip on the harbor, taking in the navy yard and spending some hours as guests of the National Schutzen boar[illegible] Schutzen Platz. From Charleston the party goes north for a week in Boston, New York and other cities.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold, but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure, at all drug stores. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Wireless Station for Pacific Coast.

Washington, July 19.—Soon the United States navy will have the Pacific coast equipped so that messages may be received at some stations either day or night. Wireless stations have been completed and equipped at San Diego, Arquello, Faralona, and Mare Island, and stations are now being constructed at Table Bluff, Cape Blanco, North Head and Cape Flattery. The stations are from 130 to 210 miles apart and when they are all erected and the apparatus installed, it will be possible to communicate the whole length of the Pacific coast.

Only 82 Years Old.

"I am only 82 years old and don't expect even when I get to be real old to feel that way as long as I can get Electric Bitters," says Mrs. E. H. Brunson of Dublin, Ga. Surely there's nothing else keeps the old as young and makes the weak as strong as this grand tonic medicine. Dyspepsia, torpid liver, inflamed kidneys or chronic constipation are unknown after taking Electric Bitters a reasonable time. Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c.

Two Killed; Two Injured.

Houston, Tex., July 19.—Two men were killed and three others seriously hurt in a collision of two oil trains on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe 2 miles south of Plantersville.

The Smile

That won't come off appears on baby's face after one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, the great worm medicine. Why not keep that smile on baby's face. If you keep this medicine on hand, you will never see anything else but smiles on his face. Mrs. S——, Blackwell, Okla., writes: "My baby was peevish and fretful. Would not eat and I feared he would die. I used a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he has not had a [illegible]

LACE BARK TREES.

The Beautiful and Serviceable Dress Materials They Yield.

There are in all about half a dozen lace bark trees in the world, so called because the inner bark yields a natural lace in ready made sheet form, which can be made up in serviceable articles of apparel. Only four of these curious species of trees are of much practical value. Tourists who have stopped at Hawaii or Samoa may recall the lace bark clothing of the natives—clothing of a neat brown color when new, of remarkable strength and of a fragrant odor, like freshly cured tobacco leaf. The native tapa cloth, as it is called, is made from the bark of the Brusonetia papirifera, but it is not usually included among the real lace bark trees. In its natural state the real lace bark is of a delicate cream white tint. It is probably a kind of fibrous pith. When the outer bark is removed it can be unfolded and unwound in one seamless piece, having a surface of a little more than a square yard. Washing and sun bleaching give it a dazzling white appearance. The fabric is airily light. It is used in the West Indies for mantillas, cravats, collars, window curtains—in a word, for every purpose that ordinary lace is used. In making up shawls, veils and the like it is customary to piece two sheets of lace bark together. Delicate and apparently weak as it is in single mesh, a bit of lace bark if rolled into a thin string will all but resist human strength to break it.—New York World.

UNCONGENIAL FLOWERS.

Mignonette and Roses, For Instance, Will Not Mix.

The florist frowned as he took up an order for a table decoration. "That will never do," he muttered. After calling up the customer and suggesting a change, he told his new clerk a few things.

"You must never take an order that calls for a mixture of mignonette and roses," he said. "A centerpiece of those two flowers wouldn't last half through the luncheon. They simply wilt one another. I don't know why, but they can't get along together.

"It is true of many flowers. Pansies, for instance, last twice as long if they are not combined with any other flower, and the same may be said of violets. Jonquils and daffodils, on the other hand, seem to get a new lease of life if you combine considerable green with them. Carnations will go all to pieces if you combine them with roses, although the roses do not seem to be affected.

"It is more striking in combinations of green with flowers. If you try to use an entirely different type of foliage from what the flower is used to, it won't last so long. So I never put feathery foliage with lilies of the valley, for you know its natural foliage is a thick leaf. I never use thick leaves with carnations, for their foliage is of the feathery type. It isn't as though the flowers fought, but they seem to grieve at being misunderstood."—New York Press.

THE NAMES OF WALES

FIVE DISTINCT WAYS BY WHICH THEY HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED.

Until Some Six or Seven Generations Ago the Welsh People Had No Surnames at All, and They Knew Each Other by One Name Only.

Take any casual list of Welshmen and tick off Jones, Williams, Davis, Evans, Thomas, Griffith, Morgan, Llewellyn, Hughes, Roberts, Lewis and Richards, and in some parts of the country especially you will practically have exhausted the roll. In a column of names now before the writer, drawn from all parts of the principality, there are 600 names, and 31 of them are Evanses, 45 Williamses, 70 Davises and no fewer than 90 of them are Joneses.

It is commonly supposed that the predominant Welsh names represent the effects of interbreeding, so to speak, in clans that are very ancient. The Welsh are an old nation, and from their geographical position they have been very much isolated, and hence, it is supposed, this tendency of certain names in the course of long centuries to multiply to the exclusion of almost all others. This, however, as regards the whole country, is quite erroneous. Until some six or seven generations ago the Welsh had no surnames at all. As is the use with most primitive peoples, they knew each other by one name only, and it was not until intercourse between Welshmen and Englishmen became greatly developed in the sixteenth and the early part of the seventeenth century that the English use of a second name began to be adopted by the more important Welsh families.

There seems to be hardly a surname in Wales traceable back beyond the sixteenth century, but before the middle of the seventeenth all merchants, professional people and the richer classes generally had adopted the patronymic. Where there are half a dozen David Joneses in the same village it is absolutely necessary to find some appellations that will be distinctive between them, and it is commonly done in the ancient fashion. One will be David Jones wyn—white David Jones, that is—another will be David Jones llwyd, or David Jones the gray man, or David Jones Sais, signifying the man who speaks English.

There are five distinct ways in which Welsh names have been arrived at. One class comprises names purely personal and native, such as Griffith or Rhys (Rees), or else imported from England, such as Thomas or James. Such are strictly individual designations, and from them surnames seem to have been evolved by a custom familiar to readers of the Old Testament. Thus, Hugh ap David in the first instance means merely Hugh the son of David, who may be David ap Thomas—Hugh the son of David the son of Thomas. The conventional dropping of the "ap" makes the individual Hugh David, which looks like a Christian and surname, though they are really two Christian names of two generations. A second way in which eventually the surname has been arrived at has been by absorbing the "ap" or "ab" into the second name. Thus, Thomas ap Richard becomes Thomas Pritchard and Hugh ab Evan resolves into Hugh Bevan. A third way is one already indicated, in which some personal characteristic, such as white or gray, thin or stout, at first an individual nickname, as it were, is handed down from father to son and finally becomes the family name.

But it has been said that three-fourths or four-fifths of modern Welsh names have been reached by the adoption of a custom from England at a time when the Welsh craze for the fashionable surname put invention on the stretch and led to something like a regular system of production. Englishmen had been accustomed to take as their surname the possessive case of the paternal name. Thus Thomas, the son of Hob or Hick, became Thomas Hob's or Hick's, and these finally became simply Hobs and Hicks.

Now, the Welsh have no genitive case. Possession, ownership, is indicated by the relative position of words, so that they could not give exactly the English possessive termination to their names, and this stage was consequently omitted, and when, in the sixteenth century, everybody of consequence was feeling about for the dignity of a surname, they adopted the English practice of appending the possessive "s" without the apostrophe, which they did not understand. Thus Thomas ap David, who had already become Thomas David—which, by the position of the words really meant David's son Thomas, exactly the same as Thomas ap David—took the English "s" and became Thomas Davids, from which finally emerged the name of Davies or Davis.

David the pious Welsh of course got from the Bible, and it was a very favorite name with them; hence the great army of Welsh Davises. But a still more popular name was the New Testament John, which, however, poor Taffy, not having any "j" in his alphabet, could not spell or pronounce as we do. He had to use "sh" for our "j," and John with him became "Shone," to which, when he wanted to become fashionable and make a cognomen of it, he added the letter "s" like his English neighbor, and the great tribe of Joneses was thus born in a single generation. They are not, therefore, the ancient race they are sometimes taken for, but merely a large body of fashionable Johnnies, who first aired their gentility about three centuries ago and have been multiplying ever since.—London Globe.

BAIRD H'DWARE CO.

IN MAYOR'S COURT.

Nip Wallace Arraigned Upon Charge of Disorderly Conduct.

There was only one case before the mayor Thursday morning.

Nip Wallace, a colored man who bears a good reputation, was arraigned upon a complaint charging him with disorderly conduct, the charge having been preferred by James Lee.

Lee stated to the court that Wallace had "held him up" at the point of a pistol, and he wanted "revenge." A number of witnesses testified, but no one could be found who would positively state that the weapon was a pistol, a monkey-wrench, or any other particular kind of a weapon.

This evidence was not sufficiently strong to convince the court that Wallace intended any harm, and the defendant was discharged upon payment of the costs.
